CORPORATE SPONSORSHIP

Accelerate the growth of businesses through world-class training at Northwestern University's Kellogg School of Management

Advanced Management Education Program (AMEP) aims to position high-potential MBEs for accelerated growth and is designed specifically for the CEO/owners of NMSDC-certified businesses.

The scholarship NMSDC offers includes tuition for the 4-day management program, accommodations, and meals. MBEs are responsible for their own travel.

MBEs must meet the following criteria:

- NMSDC certified and in good standing by an NMSDC affiliate council
- In business at least three years
- Manufacturers and distribution firms with minimum sales of $5 million; service firms with minimum sales of $3 million
- CEO/owner of the company attends program
- Recommendation from NMSDC national corporate member familiar with the applicant's capabilities (or a local member) in conjunction with an affiliate council

Corporate sponsorship of one MBE to attend this exceptional training opportunity is $5,800.
(Includes tuition, accommodations and meals.)

Benefits to becoming a corporate sponsor of MBEP include:

- Enabling an exceptional MBE to attend the week-long seminar
- Demonstrating your company's commitment to minority business development
- Developing your company's own supplier base
- Partnering with one of the nation's leading business schools: sponsors often return year after year to support AMEP scholarships because of the great ROI.

The program is well received and has a robust alumni program which meets at the National Conference every year. To sponsor an MBE for this program, e-mail amep@nmsdc.org today!

Past sponsors have included:

June 9 - June 13, 2019
